The 2016 Friuli Colli Orientali Chardonnay Ronc di Juri is a medium-bodied white that was fermented in barrique and aged in oak (with 50% new wood) for 12 months. The bouquet offers fragrant tones of yellow rose, honey and summer-ripened peach. The oak influences are well played with some toasted almond and vanilla bean that are well integrated within the richer fiber (and 14.5% alcohol) of this wine. Ronc di Juri represents a selection of the best fruit sourced across a single vineyard. Only 3,000 bottles were made.
